TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

Markus is a joy to work with, and his proactive, efficient and pleasant manner means he can integrate easily into any organization. He is particularly adept at seeing the bigger picture of how PR and reputation management can be harnessed to best serve his clients, and his quick understanding of the wider needs of an organization means he can offer insightful input and advice across various areas of a business – whether on wider strategy or specific tactical plans.

He is also extremely adaptable, and works flexibly to get the best results for his clients. His keen business sense, strong contacts within DACH across political, economical and business spheres, combined with his deep experience in crisis communications makes him a reliable PR consultant you can trust to deliver impactful results.

Yours sincerely

Dr. Michael Winkler
Managing Director
